

PSALM FOR CREATION

September 10, 2017
Pullen Sunday in the Park

Help us to co-exist with our wondrous, changing world, the loud and the crazy, together wounded and wounding.

Strong and fragile Mother-Earth, rooted in New Beginnings precipitously evolving, renew us.

We are thankful for the awesome abundance of our planet
but have unwavering concern for its future.

Beloved serendipitous diverse beauty,
Our Mother Earth.

Through love, Birth is the renewal of beauty and life.

Living Earth, ever-changing, fragile and fierce,
sustains and renews us in wonder.

We celebrate birth and renewal, stemming from roots of love, hope, and mindfulness of the ever-changing world.

As we worship in this awesome, wonderful world of ever-changing perfection, we yearn for warmth and peace with our brothers and sisters.

The energy of water, wind, and life unseen
is awe-inspiring.

Powerful space, full of holy life,
you are an impressive and irreplaceable gift.

Ever-present one, we give you thanks for the abundant fresh air, clean water, and beautiful sunshine that reminds us of your wonder and may we not betray your creation.

We are grateful for this abundant miracle of a world—
although it is assaulted, threatened, and fragile.

We stand refreshed and yet in awe of the change and even pain in your limitless creation.

Everyone listen to the dynamic power of your luscious creation, hope for healing.

We come here today humbled by God's beautiful, verdant creation,
as we grieve for our embattled, delicate environment,
and still yearn for restoration of joy and beauty everlasting.

Creation, like a tree, is a fragile source of constant beauty that deserves our respect.

Thank you for this beautiful, unique, green abundance, leaping out at us unexpectedly and mysteriously.

We are thankful for the beautiful and wonderful creation of sun and wind that is dynamic, diverse, momentous,
and whose voices are ever-changing and bringing a deluge of sorrow and beauty.

Our beautiful, green, fragile world, bursting with precious life, requires our stewardship to protect it.

We share a fragile yet resilient, miraculously life-giving world.
